- Generally, data from the EU Community Survey on household use of ICT, which covers EU countries plus Iceland, Norway and Turkey, relate to the first quarter of the reference year. For the Czech Republic, data relate to the fourth quarter of the reference year.
- Previously, data for Korea were based on the Computer and Internet Use Survey conducted by the Korean National Statistical Office. Certain items of that survey are no longer collected and data are now sourced from the Survey on Computer and Internet Usage conducted by the National Internet Development Agency (NIDA) of Korea. The NIDA series shows larger shares than the previous survey. Up until 2005, data included only desktop and notebook PCs. For 2006, data also included portable and handheld PCs.
- The information is based on households in private occupied dwellings. Visitor-only dwellings, such as hotels, are excluded.
- Internet access is via any device (desktop computer, portable computer, TV, mobile phone, etc.).
- For 2000 to 2003, data include Internet access only via computer. As of 2004, Internet access through mobile phone, TV and game consoles are also included.
- Figures refer to a sample based on individuals and are private data from Arbeitsgruppe für Werbemedienforschung (WEMF AG).
- Statistics for 2001 and every year thereafter include the territories (Northwest Territories, Yukon Territory and Nunavut). For the even years, statistics include the ten provinces only.
- Data provided relate to households with or without children under 15 years.
- Dependent children refers in the survey to single, never married children of the household reference person, of any age.
- Household child dependency status does not include households where there is a child with an unknown dependency status.
- Households with dependent children are defined as households with children under the age of 18.
