Acknowledgements

This publication was drafted by Cécile Thoreau, Jonathan Chaloff, Thomas Liebig and Rachele Poggi from the OECD Secretariat, with the editorial assistance of Sylviane Yvron and Marlène Mohier. The authors would like to thank Jean-Christophe Dumont and Stefano Scarpetta for their useful comments.

This report has been prepared by the OECD at the request of the CNEL (Consiglio Nazionale dell’Economia e del Lavoro) with the economic support of the Italian Ministry for Labour and Social Policies – Directorate for immigration. The report also benefitted from the support by the national authorities involved, in particular the Directorate for Immigration of the Italian Ministry of Labour and Social Policies and their representatives to the OECD Working Party on Migration (Stefania Congia and Francesca Biondi Dal Monte).

The OECD Secretariat would also like to thank all the persons visited who informed the project team about developments in Italy and responded to the numerous questions raised. It benefitted from analyses undertaken by the Ministry of Labour and Social Policies, in particular their annual report on the immigrants in the labour market in Italy. Special thanks go to Giorgio Alessandrini and Michele Dau from the CNEL and to Luca di Scullo (IDOS) who co-ordinated with the CNEL the missions by the OECD Secretariat, prepared the regional tables presented in Annex A and provided valuable information about new regional, provincial and local integration initiatives. Finally, the authors wish to thank Luigi Colombini, Luisa Daniele, Alessandro Goglio and Antonella Passani for their contributions to the analysis.

A draft version was discussed at the OECD Committee for Employment, Labour, and Social Affairs (ELSAC) and at the OECD Working Party on Migration. The OECD Secretariat wishes to thank the members of ELSAC and the Working Party, for their helpful comments.
