

Natalia BASTERRECHEA is responsible for public affairs of Facebook in Spain. Among its responsibilities are the areas of privacy, security, regulatory issues that affect the Internet sector as well as the relationship with different governments and public bodies. With an extensive career, Natalia has been instrumental in advising start-up companies, participating in the launch of important telecommunications companies, such as mobile operators and new Internet businesses. Before joining Facebook, she worked in different companies, including FON Wireless Ltd GSM Association and Hutchison3G in the United Kingdom and Vodafone. Natalia is an entrepreneur herself as she launched a company, Buena Vida Foods, whilst advising other businesses. Natalia holds a degree in Law from the University of Deusto with an LLM, Master in International Relations and European Competition Law from the School of International Relations of Amsterdam.