

Niina IMMONEN is leading a team in Business Tampere focusing on enhancing smart city solutions. Niina Immonen has a long experience about developing business services and creating co-operation between different actors and organisations. Niina is a certified business advisor and broker for business services and her PhD was about business co-operation. She is leading the development of business services for start up companies in Business Tampere and coordinating co-operation with new development ideas within creation of start up ecosystem.