

Charlotte de Fontaubert

Senior Fisheries Specialist, World Bank

Dr Charlotte de Fontaubert is a Senior Fisheries Specialist at the World Bank, focusing mostly on East Africa and the Middle East. She co-wrote the latest version of the Bank's seminal report on global fishing, Sunken Billions Revisited. She also co-authored the recent UN Report on the Blue Economy that was co-published by the World Bank and UN-DESA and launched at the UN Oceans Conference held at New York UN Headquarters in June 2017. She has a Master's degree from the London School of Economics and a Ph.D, in Marine Studies from the University of Delaware.